

Retro Batman & Vocabulary (List)

- ❖ Batman: I've just perfected an Electronic Hair Bat-Analyzer which may hold the key to this baffling question.
- ❖ Robin: Under this garb, we're perfectly ordinary Americans.
- ❖ Alfred Pennyworth (answering the Bat-phone): I shall solicit his presence.
- ❖ Robin: Gosh Batman, the nobility of the almost-human porpoise.
Batman: True, it was noble of that animal to hurl himself into the path of that final torpedo. He gave his life for ours.
- ❖ Batman: I'm just going to hang around the bar. I don't want to look conspicuous.
- ❖ Robin: If we close our eyes, we can't see anything.
Batman: A sound observation, Robin.
- ❖ Robin: Picked up the seal pulsator yet, Batman?
Batman: We're still over land, Robin, and a seal is an aquatic, marine mammal.
Robin: Gosh, yes, Batman, I forgot.
- ❖ Batman: At the risk of sounding conceited, young lady, we're not just anyone.
- ❖ Gordon: You make something of this enigma, Batman?
Batman: It sticks out like Penguin's nose.
- ❖ Batman: I did a little extracurricular crime-detecting while Dick Grayson was doing his homework.

- ❖ Chief O'Hara: Will you be wanting extra police protection?
Batman: No thank you, Chief O'Hara. I certainly don't mean to cast any aspersions on the police department. This time I think Robin and I better go at it alone. Any large contingent of police officers might create unnecessary confusion.
- ❖ Batman: Catwoman, I find you to be odious and abhorrent.
- ❖ Susie Knickerbocker: Batman, I think that's a darling little costume you're wearing. Where did you get it, in London or Rome?
Batman: No, I believe in patronizing local craftsmen.
- ❖ Robin (about to break into hideout): Can I go first? I want to see their faces....
Batman (stopping Robin): Dynamic seniority. (Clue: Dynamic Duo)
- ❖ Batman: Don't interrupt! I'm trying to fathom the subconscious of a deadly criminal!
- ❖ Batman: Robin, the Constitution provides that a man is innocent until proven guilty. And the Constitution is the cornerstone of our great nation. We must abide by it.
Robin: Gosh, when you put it that way...
- ❖ Robin: Gosh, Batman. I never see you use a telephone directory. How do you remember all those numbers?
Batman: Elementary, my dear Robin. I simply transpose the numbers into letters. For example, Pete Savage's number is the name of a girl he and I used to date.
- ❖ Batman: I'll do everything I can to rehabilitate you.
Catwoman: Marry me.
Batman: Everything except that.
- ❖ Batman (to Catwoman): Are you ready to capitulate?

- ❖ Robin: Boy! That was our closest call ever! I have to admit that I was pretty scared!
Batman: I wasn't scared in the least.
Robin: Not at all?
Batman: Haven't you noticed how we always escape the vicious ensnarement of our enemies?
Robin: Yeah, because we're smarter than they are!
Batman: I like to think it's because our hearts are pure.
- ❖ Batman: It's obvious. Only a criminal would disguise himself as a licensed, bonded guard yet callously park in front of a fire hydrant!
- ❖ Batman: We just dropped in for that small Bat Cave Improvement Loan that you mentioned, but in view of the strange criminal activity that seems to be transpiring here...
- ❖ Bruce: It looks like undesirable elements have once again infiltrated the manly art of self-defense.
- ❖ Batman (to King Tut): You thought you had unhinged me. I kept my reason by reciting the multiplication tables backwards.
- ❖ Mr. Cash: Oh, Batman, am I going to be alright?
Batman: Take two cold tablets, and get plenty of rest. Your cerebrum will be fine in the morning, Mr. Cash.
- ❖ Batman: Robin and I were just putting a flower decal on the Batmobile.
- ❖ Batman (entering through Barbara's window): We would have entered the building by more conventional means, but we didn't want to startle the tenants.
- ❖ Alfred: Thank heavens, Master Robin. I despaired of ever seeing you again.
Robin: The despair was mutual, Alfred.
